LEONORA'S WRITING

- Leonora writes novels and short stories for middle grade children aged 9-13.
- She writes contemporary, and historical fantasy fiction.
- Leonora is also the creator of a new, beautifully illustrated edition of classic children's novel Black Beauty, by Victorian author Anna Sewell.

ABOUT LEONORA TEALE

Leonora is a proud Yorkshire lass, hailing from the town with the smelliest water in Europe.

By starlight, Leonora weaves stories for children aged nine plus, about brave girls, boys and horses in the 1800s, with a mythical fantasy twist.

Leonora draws upon her awkward childhood, her love of history and upbringing in the Georgian town of Harrogate to share themes on family belonging, kindness, forgiveness and making the most of what you get in life, even if it's not what you wanted.

Daybreak changes Leonora into a tea-fuelled muddling Mum of two, and corporate executive.

LEONORA'S BACKGROUND

- Leonora Teale has a BA in English and American Literature from the University of Manchester.
- She lived and worked around the world in her 20s, spending years in Cuba, Spain, China and the USA.
- Leonora now lives in West London with her Cuban husband and two children.
- When she's not writing children's books, Leonora works for an international TV studio.
